To Whom it May Concern

As a feature film producer of eleven years with numerous credits including theatrical releases and sales to Netflix, Hulu, Amazon and others, I am particularly excited by Johna Bromanders story of Harald Barefoot, and see significant market potential in the concept. I am happily to lend my support to their application for funding to create a Proof of Concept and if successful would hope to be involved in guiding the POC and ultimately taking it to market with a goal of securing funding required to develop and produce the feature.

Yours Sincerely
